

WITCHBLADE TEAMS WITH MARILYN MONROE

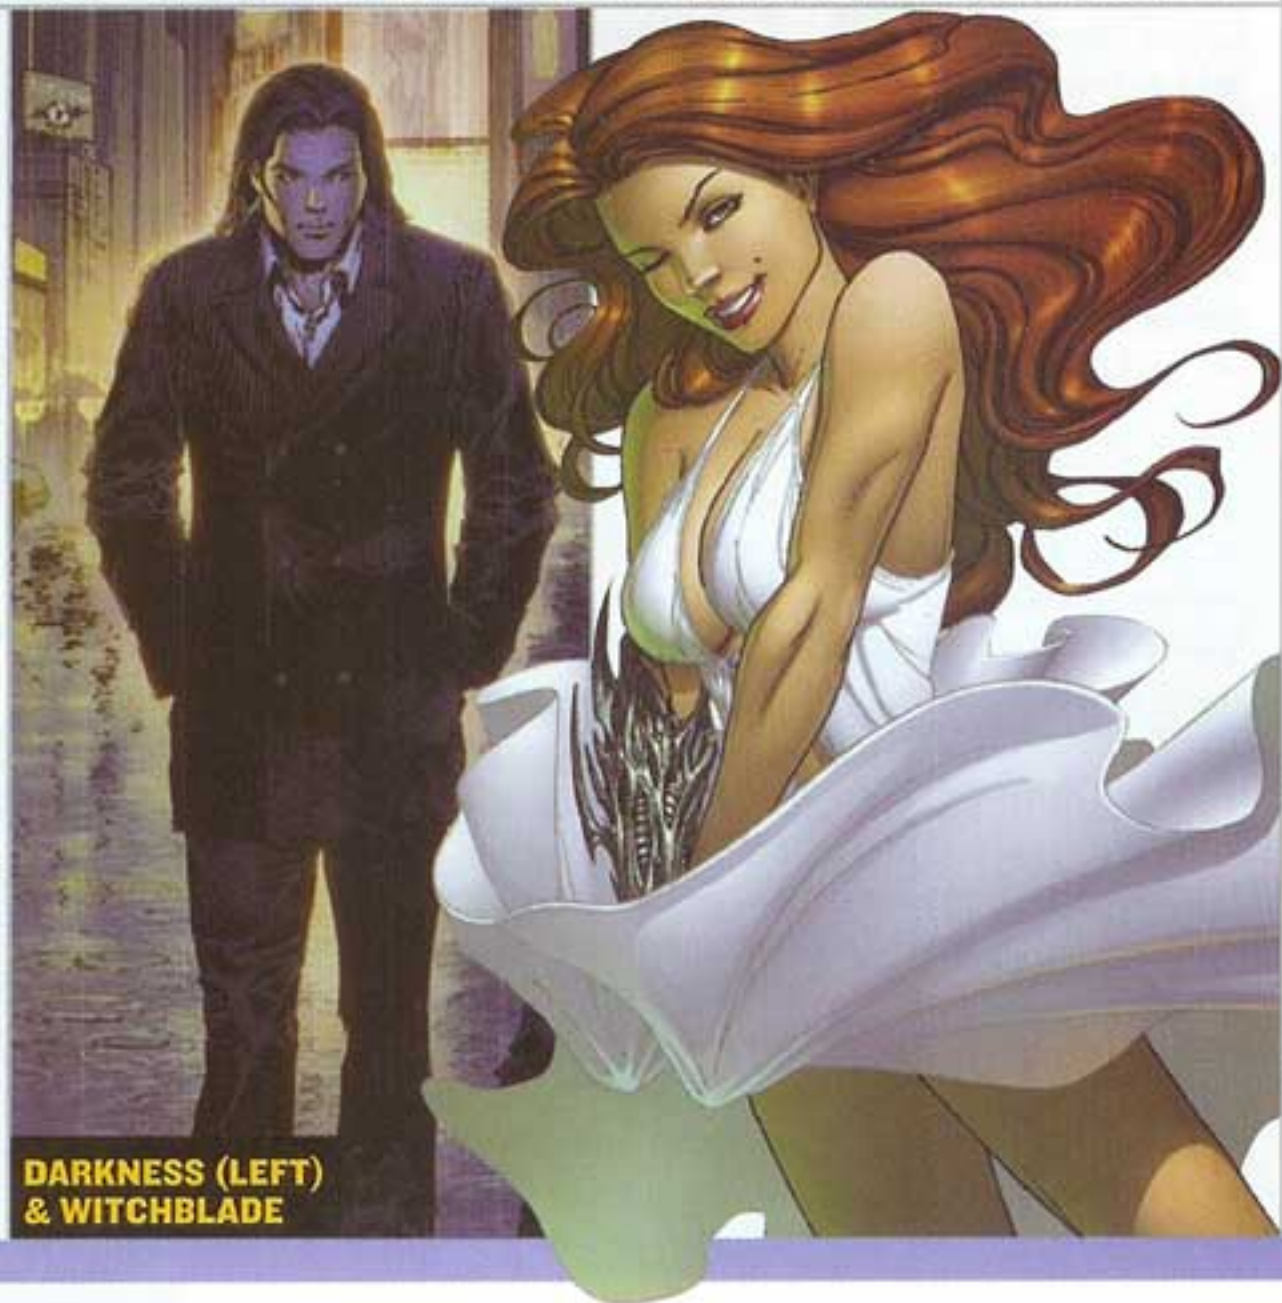

When you cross Witchblade with Marilyn Monroe, only joy can result.

Top Cow joined forces with Giant Magazine to produce a series of full-page splashes placing their top characters in iconic silver screen moments. Top Cow's top artists jumped at the chance to re-enact eight pages of these unforgettable images re-envisioning Jackie Estacado as James Dean walking through Times Square, Sara Pezzini as Marilyn Monroe having her white dress flapping over a subway vent and Wesley Gibson from Wanted re-enacting "Scarface."

"We just became really excited by this idea of icons," said President and founder of Giant Magazine, Jamie Hooper. "That's where it started: this word 'icons.' Within the comic book world, Top Cow has developed these iconic characters. So we said, 'Why don't we mold the two together?'—take the iconic comic characters of Top Cow and put them into these pop culture, iconic poses and scenarios."

These eight pages appear in the Aug./Sep. issue of Giant Magazine, on sale now.

■ MICHAEL C. SHERRIN

DARKNESS (LEFT)
& WITCHBLADE